Dear Sir:

Richard L. Cragg Law Office is a small general practice firm. Recently Cinch Networks has taken over the IT and computer support for this company. Cinch Networks has helped this company's productivity by putting in a small file server and file back up system for the office, as well as a few minor support fixes along the way. Cinch Networks handles all of the company's technical support and has done so in a professional and friendly manner. This company highly recommends Cinch Networks for all your computer needs.

Yours truly,

Richard L. Cragg
